THE "BULL-DOG" BOTTLING MARKS.

READ BROTHERS, of London, find it needful to state, for their own protection and that of the public, that they are the duly registered Owners of BOTH the original "Bull-Dog" Bottlings, Marks which were originated solely by them in connection with their Bottling Patent.

Any subsidiary bottler using the "Bull-Dog" Mark is accountable to Read Brothers, and must compulsorily deface the Mark with a signature written across it to show its origin.

Although the claim to "The Bull-Dog Brand" is thus divided, the much-used titles of "Dog's Head Ale" and "Dog's Head Stout" apply exclusively to the Bass's Ale and Guinness's Stout bottled by Read Brothers, and an injunction in their favour has accordingly been pronounced by the Lords Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 23.

There is no improvement of an kind to notice in our various import markets, which all continue to labour under the disadvantage of supplies far in excess of the current demand. Exports, however, are fairly active, Wheat continuing as yet the leading article, but Cotton is also assuming larger proportions, the Omra crop being something like three weeks earlier than last season. Freights are dull, owing to the large amount of steamer tonnage available, and £1-17-6 is now the current rate for Liverpool, whilst for loading after the turn of the year boats are offering at £1 18-9 U. K. or Continent. Money is unchanged, but, if anything, a shade firmer. Sterling Exchange keeps very steady. Government Paper and Shares are dull.

MONEY.—The last return of the Bank of Bombay showed a decrease of 21½ lacs in the Cash Balance, but as two-thirds of this was accounted for by withdrawals from the Government account, the movements were less adverse than at first sight appeared. The feeling, however, has nevertheless been somewhat firmer, and at the moment the tendency is more to anticipate an advance than otherwise. We scarcely think any immediate upward movement is probable, but as Cotton promises to come in pretty freely in the course of a few weeks, there is little possibility of a decline.

EXCHANGE.—There has been a fair amount of business doing in Sterling this week, and fluctuations have been very slight. With the announcement that at the next biddings for Councils the increased amount of 45 lacs would be offered, we opened on Friday morning with an easier feeling on the basis of 1s. 7 15-16d. for demand Bank and 1s. 8 7-32d. for 3 months' Credit Bills. Some business was done in the latter during the day at 1s. 8 3-16d., but this was the lowest point touched, and on Saturday a steadier tone was apparent, which developed on Monday into a recovery of 1-32d. all round. Since then no change has taken place, and the market to-day closes quite firm at the following rates:—Bank Bills on demand 1s. 7 31-32d., Telegraphic 1s. 7 29-32d., 3 months' 1s. 8 5-32. ; Credits, 3 months' sight 1s. 8¼d. ; Documents, 1s. 8 9-32. ; Frances, 2-13½ to ¾ per rupee.

As regards the future, no new feature has been developed during the past week. Occasionally a tendency towards a lower level is manifested, but any material reduction at once brings out a fair amount of private paper, and to our thinking the indications apparent are in favour of something about present figures being maintained until after the end of the year, when with the large export trade we have in prospect some advance may reasonably be anticipated.

On Calcutta the rate for demand drafts has receded from ¼ to 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight remaining unchanged at ¼ per cent. discount. On China 60 days' sight Mercantile Bills are quoted at Rs. 220 per 100 dollars. From Hongkong the latest quotation for 4 months' sight Bank Bills on London is 3s. 9¾d. per dollar, and from Shanghai 5s. 1¾d. per tael.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—The tone has ruled dull throughout, and the extent of business done has been small. On Friday a fairly steady feeling was apparent at Rs. 101 13-16 for Fours and Rs. 110½ for Fours-and-a-half. The latter have remained practically unaltered at that price up to the close, but Fours on Monday receded to Rs. 101 11-16, and yesterday to ⅝, which is the closing quotation to-day. As before there is no great pressure to sell on the part of holders, but in the absence of encouragement from London, buyers are equally indifferent, and with the slightly firmer tone in money latterly apparent, there seems little reason to hope for any material improvement.

SHARES.—For Spinning and Weaving Mill shares the market has tended steadily downward during the week, owing to dull state of Piece-Goods and Yarns. Our quotations show a decline since last mail left of Rs. 55 in Bombay United, Rs. 50 in National, Rs. 30 in Sholapore, Rs. 25 in Dhurrumsey, Bombay United, and Madras United, Rs. 20 in Coorla, and Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 in other Companies. In Bank shares, we have to quote an advance of ½ per cent. in Bank of Bombays, which now stand at Rs. 750. Nationals have receded Re. 1 to Rs. 104. Press Companies are very steady at in most cases previous values. Berars are Rs. 5 lower, but there is an advance o Rs. 5 in Broach Cotton Co., Rs. 2½ in Mofussil, Rs. 20 in Prince of Wales, and Rs. 25 in Fort Prices. Colaba Land shares are Rs. 20 lower at Rs. 815. Bombay Saw Mills have declined Rs. 10, Treacher & Co., Ld., Rs. 20. Bombay-Burmah Trading Co. are Rs. 20, and Kurrachee Landing and Shipping Rs. 5 higher.

PIECE-GOODS.—There is practically no change to report in the position. A fair demand prevails from up-country, and during the week clearances have been effected to the extent of about 2,500 to 3,000 packages, and probably about the same amount has been done from first hands for future shipment. Prices, however, remained unchanged, the large supplies ready and to arrive preventing any improvement in this respect. It is almost surprising, in fact, that the present level is supported in the existing state of things, and it will say a good deal for the holding powers of the dealers if they succeed in maintaining about proportionate values during the season.

TWIST.—We are unable to report any change in the position of the market for English Yarns. Prices are unaltered, and the demand is slow. Local Yarns are dull and generally ½ anna per lb. lower.

METALS.—Copper is firm, owing to the advance which has taken place at home, and for Braziers we quote an advance of As. 8 to As. 12 per cwt. A similar improvement has taken place in Yellow Metal Braziers, which are in moderate supply and firmly held. Iron remains in the same position as formerly ; heavy stocks and only a slow demand. Values are nominally unchanged.

COALS have undergone no quotable change during the week. A steamer cargo of Cardiff to arrive has been sold at Rs. 14½, but we have not heard of any other business from first hands. Davison's may be quoted at Rs. 13¾, Lairds Rs. 13 per ton alongside, to arrive.

COTTON.—The tenor of the Liverpool telegrams induced an active enquiry in the early part of the week, and prices both of New and Old Cotton advanced Re. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy. The improvement, however, brought out sellers, and the advices from home again coming a shade quieter, the previous advance has just about been lost yesterday and to-day. The transactions for export in Old Cotton during the week sum up about 8,000 bales, mostly G. F. and F. G. F. Omras and Good Dholleras, but in New Crop both ready and forward the total business does not exceed 2,500 bales.

New Omras are going to turn out an early crop, say about three weeks ahead of last season. Some 500 bales in all have been received so far, and every day will see a rapid increase. The quality which at first was not altogether satisfactory is now improving, and we think there is now good reason to anticipate one of the largest and best yields we have ever had from Khandeish and the Berars. Regarding the Broach and Dhollera crops the reports continue eminently satisfactory, and with anything like ordinary weather we have every prospect of a fine yield all round.

The Receipts of Cotton from up-country to date give the following comparisons with the two previous years :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
For the week	19,704	7,788	5,308
Since 1st Sept.	114,720	61,968	73,904
Since 1st Jan.	1,199,325	1,116,815	839,674

The Clearances for Sea since the departure of last mail have been 14,494 bales, making a total of 955,063 bales since 1st January, against 881,870 bales for the same period last year.

The following are to-day's quotations for full-pressed Cotton with the equivalents in Sterling, Cost, and Freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without Commission :—

SEEDS.—Linseed continues quiet with only moderate buying for export, and prices remain unchanged at Rs. 6-2 to Rs. 6-3 per cwt. Rapeseed is quite nominal at Rs. 6 to Rs. 6-1 per cwt. For Gingelly the demand is singularly slack, and prices have receded to Rs. 31 to Rs. 32-8 per candy without bringing out free buyers.

WHEAT continues to arrive in very large quantities, but shipments are on a corresponding scale, and prices are no lower, notwithstanding very quiet advices from home. When existing contracts are covered, however, we may look for a decline, as new crop reports are very favourable. We quote to-day No. 1 White Rs. 34 to Rs. 34-8, No. 2 Rs. 32 to Rs. 32-8 per candy.

THE VICEROY'S TOUR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

CHITTORE, Nov. 24 1 A.M.

The Viceroy was formally visited by the Maharana in the forenoon, after which the ceremony of investing his Highness with the insignia of Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India was performed by the Viceroy in a large Shameanery especially erected for the purpose. The interior was handsomely decorated with glass mirrors, and a large number of ladies and gentlemen including members of the order were present also native nobles. The Viceroy returned the Maharana's visit in the afternoon and visited the fortress of the City of Chittore. Lady Ripon arrived in the morning by special train.

In the evening the Maharana gave a banquet to their Excellencies and all the guests assembled in camp. After dinner the Maharana through Colonel Walter proposed the Queen's health which was followed by the toast of the Viceroy's health. His Highness expressed pleasure at meeting the Viceroy at Chittore for the defence and possession of which his ancestors had sacrificed their lives, and at receiving the honour which was a proof of the continued existence of mutual feelings of regard between his state, and the British Government. The Viceroy in responding was loudly cheered throughout and expressed his great gratification that the Maharana was the first native prince whom he had decorated with such an honour not only on account of his distinguished lineage and wisdom and the moderation of his rule, but the historical chivalric memories connected with Chittore. He expressed gratification at his Highness regarding the Star of India as a bond of union between the English crown and the princes of India, and concluded by proposing the Maharana's health which was drunk enthusiastically. The guests then adjourned to witness an excellent display of fireworks. Lady Ripon left for Ajmere at 10. The Viceroy starts to-morrow at 11 for Agra stopping at Bhurtpore for shooting.

THE ABOR EXPEDITION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 23.

The Englishman publishes an interesting narrative of the progress and prospects of the above expedition, of which the following is a brief summary. A detachment of 300 rifles of the 43rd Regt., under command of Major Beresford, left Dibrughur on the 5th November by route march for Sadiya. Much enthusiasm prevailed in the regiment at the prospect of so soon again seeing active service after their late campaign in the Naga Hills. The ordinary route from Dibrughar to Sadiya, the starting point of the expedition, is five marches, 65 miles, but the orders received being to carry out the movement as expeditiously as possible, the distance was accomplished in seven marches. The road marched over was in a bad state of repair, and the bridges were barely passable for carts, which had in consequence to be assisted over the bad parts. Owing to the heat, most of the marching was done at nights, the average rate of progress being 15 miles daily. The worst part of the journey was crossing the Brahmaputra, 3½ miles from Sadiya, at a place called Saikhwa, where the troops had to cut a ghat to the river. Fortunately five regimental boats, with three large rafts to aid in crossing, were present when the fatigue party from the Sadiya detachment of the 43rd, and some regimental elephants which were sent for immediately the troops reached Sadiya. Otherwise the passage of the river would have occupied three or four days, the only provision made by the Public Works Department immediately concerned and responsible being a small mar, or ferry boat. While the men were occupied cooking and eating their food, the camp equipage was taken across and pitched on the north bank. The elephants which accompanied the expedition were swum across. The whole detachment, elephants, and baggage were across and encamped on the north bank three miles from Sadiya by 4-30. Here the troops encamped for the night, waiting for the steam-launch Lark, containing provisions, ammunition, and other stores. Dum Duma, 18 miles, was left that morning, 7th Nov., at 3 o'clock, and Saikhwa ghat was reached at 9-45 a.m. The passage of the river occupied six hours, mostly spent indragging carts across the sands. The whole force, without a single accident, landed on the north bank after 14 consecutive hours' work. Heavy rain commenced falling during the night. The detachment marched into Sadiya next day, headed by bugle band and drums. The steamer Lark, with Colonel Evans, who com mands at Sadiya, arrived at noon on the 10th, two days late.

The force advancing to Nizamghat in the first instance will consist of 312 of all ranks of the 43rd N. L. I., and some Kampti militia or volunteers, excellent scouts and guides. The above force is to be supplemented later on by 150 rifles of the frontier police, commanded by Mr. Livesay. The whole force immediately it crosses the frontier line will be under the immediate command of Major Beresford. A fleet of boats and some elephants accompany the force. The former will have to be guarded along the whole line of route. After both detachments have stockaded themselves at Nizamghat and Bomjur, they commence road-making in both directions, so that constant patrolling may be maintained along the whole line of communications to keep a good watch on the river, used for the transport of stores to and from the base of operations at Sadiya and Dibong entrepôts. On one march, 10 miles, a complement of ammunition, entrenching tools, and hospital establishment. No camp equpage was taken. The original idea of the expedition was to send a much smaller force. No news has yet been received as to the probable attitude the Bor Abors will assume on hearing of the advance of the expedition. It is quite likely that they will cross to Dibong before the force has reached Nizamghat, or try to harass the advance by attacking the boats or baggage. They are capable of combining and acting in concert, and herein lies their element of strength. If they neither openly oppose nor submit unconditionally, but remain quiescent and sulky, and hold aloof, the Abor question will remain unsettled and unsatisfactory, as for the last twenty years.

Sadiya, the base of operations, is 65 miles from Dibrughur. It cannot be calculated certainly when the force will reach either Bomjur or Nizamghat, but probably three or four days to the former place and two to three days to the latter so news ought to be received by heliograph on the 19th or 20th at Sadiya from Nizamghat.

BILLS OF LADING.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 23.

An influential special general meeting of members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and others interested in the subject was held to-day for the purpose of taking into consideration the report of the Special Committee appointed to consider the subject of a new form of bill of lading for steamships from Calcutta to London and Liverpool, and of adopting such measures as should be deemed advisable. In introducing the subject the Chairman said that in June last the Committee of the Chamber received a requisition signed by members and others, calling on the Committee to convene a special meeting of the Chamber to discuss the present form of bill of lading for steam vessels trading between Calcutta and London and Liverpool. The suggestion was adopted, and a Committee consisting of two representatives of the Chamber and two requisitionists were appointed, and the results of their deliberations were embodied in copies of abstract of proceedings and a report. It was proposed, seconded, and carried that the report be accepted, and the thanks of the meeting accorded, to the Committee for the careful and able report drawn up. It was also proposed, seconded and unanimously carried that the Committee of merchants in London who previously acted in settling the form of bill of lading for sailing ships from Calcutta to ports in the United Kingdom should be invited to discuss and empowered to settle in consultation with steam owners the exact form and conditions of a bill of lading for steamers homeward bound from Calcutta that sail to London, and that the Committee should be empowered to add to their number, and do all such things in furtherance of such resolution as might seem to them desirable; also that the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce be requested to give effect to the preceding resolution.

A NOTIFICATION appears in the Gazette of India that Mr. P. S. Melvill, C. S. I., has been permitted to resign her Majesty's Bengal Civil Service, with effect from the 4th January, 1882.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL W. G. WATERFIELD, B. S. C., C. S. I., Commissioner and Superintendent, Peshawar Division, is gazetted to officiate as a Resident of the 2nd class and as Agent to the Governor-General in Biluchistan, vice Lieutenant-Colonel O. B. C. IT is formally notified in the last Gazette of India that Major W. J. Engledue, R. A. J. Wallace, R.E., on special leave, or until further orders. During the time Major Engledue acts for Major Wallace he will officiate in class I, grade 3, of the Revenue Scale. Major T. F. Dowden, R. E., Superintending Engineer, 3rd class, temporary rank, is placed at the disposal of the Government of Bombay, vice Major Engledue.

IT is notified in the Gazette of India that Surgeon E. G. Russell, M. B., has been permitted to assume the Christian name of Edgar in lieu of that of Ebenezer.

IF Mr. Grant Duff is going to keep as much as he can to the plains, Sir Frederick Roberts is not. The Mail hears that Sir Frederick intends remaining almost the whole year at Ootacamund, and that the Military Secretary's establishment has been warned to be in readiness to proceed thither in December.

THE case of Puhulli, a Khoja woman, who murdered a little girl named Labee on the 2nd September for the sake of her ornaments, worth about Rs. 23, was heard yesterday at the Criminal Sessions before Mr. Justice West and a special jury. It appears that the woman, who has four little children, was tempted by extreme poverty to remove the ornaments from the person of the unfortunate child, and then drown her in a tank. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, recommending the prisoner to mercy. His lordship, in passing sentence, remarked that poverty was not an excuse for committing so great a crime as that of child-murder for the sake of ornaments. If the crime had been very prevalent just at present, he would have felt it his duty to pass sentence of death. But as that did not happen to appear to be the case, and as the jury recommended the prisoner to mercy, he would sentence her to transportation for life. The wretched woman was led out of the dock amidst the piteous cries of her children.

THE death is reported at Lucknow, on Tuesday last, of cholera, of Dr. H. L. Cox, in medical charge of the Seaforth Highlanders Camp.

LIEUT.-COL AND BREVET COL. SIR CHARLES PATTON KEYES, K.C.B., Madras Staff Corps, has been granted the local rank of Major-General in the East Indies, in consequence of his appointment to the Divisional Staff of the Army in the Madras Presidency.

MAJOR KENNEY-HERBERT, who, since the arrival of Major Spencer and his assumption of the office of Military Secretary to his Grace the Governor, has been left, pro tem, without a billet, is, the Madras Times learns, to be appointed on "special duty" to inspect and report on all the spots in Southern India favourable for camping grounds for armies. Major Kenney-Herbert is to travel from Arconum to Tuticorin, and report on every site suitable for camping grounds.

THE Lahore paper hears that on the evening of the 13th instant sixty men of Zia-ul-din, Zakka Khel, raided on some cattle of Landi Kachi, Kohat district. The robbers were unsuccessful in lifting the cattle; and one of their number was killed. They, however, carried off a small amount of property, and killed one of the villagers, wounding another.

THE Nawab of Rampur, who recently offered himself as a candidate for the representation of North Lincolnshire, returned to India by an Anchor Line steamer last week.

DURING the month of October over 2½ lakhs of shroff-marked rupees were withdrawn from circulation by the treasuries in the Punjab.

THE Indian Daily News remarks that Bombay, with a consolidated rate of 8 per cent., is far behind Calcutta, which can boast of an 8 per cent. rate as house-rate only, without counting water, police, or lighting.

SERIOUS falls from horses are becoming of frequent occurrence. Within a week we have had news from Northern India of two deaths of young officers being caused in this way. An Allahabad paper now states that Mr. C. J. Rivett-Carnac, of the Financial Department, who has just returned from England, has had a nasty fall from his horse. "We are glad to learn, however, that he has received no hurt beyond a severe shaking."

THE reports of the Revenue and Agricultural Department on the state of the season and prospects of the crops throughout India for the week ending the 15th November, show that there has been slight rain in parts of Central and Eastern Bengal, but its want continues to be felt in Orissa and in some other places. General prospects, however, continue good. The earlier sorts of rice are being harvested, with a good average return; fever is more or less prevalent. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh there has been no rain; the rabi crops are everywhere in need of moisture, and irrigation has commenced in some districts; fever still exists, especially in Oudh. In the Punjab rabi sowings are progressing, and the kharif harvest is almost over, the yield being generally good and prospects favourable. In the Central India and Rajputana States the weather is seasonable, and agricultural prospects continue good on the whole. In the Central Provinces rabi sowings are nearly finished, and rain is now wanted in one district; the weather is, however, reported to be cloudy; there has been a little rain; and prospects continue good. In the Bombay Presidency there has been good rain in the Southern Mahratta Country and elsewhere, and agricultural prospects, except in two districts where rain is urgently wanted, have much improved. In the Nizam's Territories and Berar kharif corps are being reaped; there has been some rain, and prospects are favourable. Rain has again fallen copiously throughout the Mysore State and in Coorg, and crops are now everywhere in good condition; the harvesting of ragi and other minor corps has commenced in Mysore, and rice and coffee will now ripen better in Coorg. In the Madras Presidency there has been a further rainfall, more or less heavy, in all districts except one; and general prospects are good, although a few districts still need more rain. In British Burma and Assam crop prospects are favourable everywhere; the harvesting of rice has commenced in the latter province. On the whole it may be said that recent rains have materially improved crop prospects in Southern and Western India; that in the Central tracts of the country the weather is seasonable and agricultural condition satisfactory; and that in the greater part of Northern India general showers would be beneficial.

THE Madras Government's review of the report on jail administration in that Presidency for 1880 has been published. A table contrasting the statistics of the year under review with the three preceding years shows that the daily average number of inmates in 1877 was 20,678; in 1878, 21,389; in 1879, 15,377; and in 1880, 12,202. The Government remark that the figures are evidently gradually approaching normal proportions, which were disturbed by the late famine. From the table showing the distribution of ordinary prisoners according to the different classes, the Government observe that, excepting State prisoners, there was a very general decrease, compared with 1879, in the accessions under each head. On the last day of the year there were of all classes of prisoners 11,107 males and 436 females, of whom 94·58 per cent. were undergoing sentences of rigorous imprisonment. During the year 55 persons were executed and 310 transported beyond seas. With regard to jail mortality, it is reported that the death-rate fell from 56·30 to 42·40 per mille of daily average jail population; the total number being 530, against 860 in the preceding year. The Government note that this ratio, which they still consider high, is due to exceptional mortality in one or two jails At Rajahmundry the deaths among the rebel prisoners from Rampa and Golgonda were particularly high, those hillmen afflicted with nostalgia, readily succumbing to trifling attacks of disease. The Salem Jail is evidently in an unsatisfactory state, which should form the subject of yearly investigation by the Sanitary Commissioner."

MAJOR-GENERAL GEORGE GODFREY PEARSE, C.B., Royal (late Madras) Artillery, who retires on a good-service pension, joined the Army in 1845 and was made Major-General in February, 1880. A CORRESPONDENT of a German paper writes from Odessa that the result of the examination of the Emperor's yacht Livadia is that the ship is to be taken to pieces, and the materials otherwise employed.

THE Bishop of Natal, in letter dated Durban Oct. 2, states that Cetewayo had again asked to be permitted to visit England, and that in Natal it was considered highly probable that the request should be acceded to. Sir Hercules Robinson, the Bishop adds, is very favourable to the project.

"SOME FUN."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The enclosed cutting from the Scotsman came by the last mail. Print it and let us have some fun. It is quite refreshing to have such an exhibition of religious intolerance. Fancy bracketting United Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, and Bradlaugh together for the sake of having a fling at Sir James Fergusson and Sir Graham Montgomery.

Who is Sir Graham Montgomery that so much should be said against him? Perhaps Sir James Fergusson feels a relief in being in a country where he is free from the wars of the sects, and can do just what he pleases for a change. But perhaps, if he did just what he pleased, he might not go to church at all. He may have a small modicum of respect for Christianity, but the way we are so dull we want waking, up, and it is pleasant fora change to get a view of religious Scotland, at least of one aspect of it.

Bombay, Nov. 22. A SOUTHRON DEIL.

SIR JAMES FERGUSSON AND THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "SCOTSMAN."

SIR,—"A Supporter of Sir Graham Montgomery" is very indignant, and meditates revenge, because Sir Stafford Northcote, who is an Episcopalian, did not become a Presbyterian when in Scotland. How will he feel, and what will he do, when I tell him that I have it on the best authority that Sir James Fergusson—a Presbyterian, a communicant, an elder, a constant attendant of the General Assembly, an ardent speaker there, and a loud political supporter of the Church—has become an Episcopalian on becoming Governor of Bombay, and that he statedly worships in the Episcopal church, ignoring the Scotch kirk there, and the minister—whom all Bombay honoured—Dr. Duncan Macpherson, now, alas! no more?

Both churches there are on a perfect equality, and the official position of Governor does not necessitate attendance in the one more than in the other; but yet this is the way Sir James Fergusson treats the Church to which he professes to belong, and whose interests he pretends to advance.

Oh my soul! Ex uno disce omnis. Presbyterian aristocrats are Presbyterian only at home. Abroad they are ashamed of their nation's Church, and blank, and frigid, and courtesy, and cross themselves, as if they had been sprinkled and signed by priestly finger, and confirmed in High Churchism for ever more by the touch of Episcopal hand. Such contemptible conduct shows that they care as little for the Church of Scotland as a Church as any U. P., or R. C., or even Bradlaugh does. In their eyes, it is at the very most only a becoming mode of worship for domestics, peasantry, and artisans, and because dear Lochiel who cannot well be despised at election times, they often affect an attachment for the Church of Scotland, which their residence abroad shows to be only affectation. I have no faith in such. Who thinks can have. Shake myself loose from them, thou "Supporter of Sir Graham Montgomery."—I am &c.

PENSIONS FOR THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—New pension rules having been sanctioned for the Indian Army and Public Works Department, don't you think it is now high time something were done in that direction for the poor Education-walla, who is not in these days allowed even private practice? Sir P. Wodehouse's Government tried to improve the pension conditions of the higher Educational officers; but, in my opinion, all grades in the department require a lift in this direction, and the present seems an opportune moment to bring forward proposals for the amelioration of these rules. P. S.

No. 924 of 1875.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

To the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

SIR,—I am directed by his Excellency the Governor in Council to forward herewith to the Government of India a memorial, to the address of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, from certain officers of the graded list of the Bombay Educational Department, representing their claims to an increased rate of pension, and asking that they may be allowed the same Pension Rules as Her Majesty's Indian Civil Service. A list of graded officers in the Educational Department, India, which accompanied the memorial, is also forwarded.

2. In transmitting the memorial I am to point out, in proof of the justice of the request which it contains, that in the case of these gentlemen the principle on which the English Superannuation Acts have been framed has been practically reversed. In those Acts it is recognized that public servants appointed to offices requiring special attainments, and to which untrained youths cannot be admitted, shall, with reference to pensions, be placed in a position more favourable than that assigned to the latter.

3. The memorialists, it is obvious, must, if fit for appointment to professorships and similar offices, have evinced their proficiency and be of more mature age than the Covenanted Civil Servant admitted under the existing regulations; nevertheless, the members of the Bombay (or Indian) Educational Department are required to serve in India in all cases six years, and in some cases nine years, more than the Civil Servants. His Excellency in Council feels bound, therefore, to support their prayer to be placed in a not less favourable position in this respect than the members of the Covenanted Civil Service.

4. I am to append to this letter copy of a communication from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 1756, dated 3rd July, 1875, submitting the memorial, and to state that Mr. Chatfield's proposals other than as regards pension have been duly considered by this Government. His Excellency the Governor in Council is of opinion (1) that the term of office by Educational officers should be "during pleasure," instead of at six months' notice, which should be abolished; and (2) that appointments to the graded list should be limited to graduates of Universities.—I have, &c.,

E. W. RAVENSCROFT,
Acting Chief Secretary to Government.

THE SPORTING TIMES OF INDIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—May I ask whether it is in accordance with the "etiquette" of newspapers that your contemporary, the Times of India, tells an old story in its columns this morning, as vulgar as it is scurrilous, attributing, without comment, and not even as an on dit, the language of Billingsgate to a respected Calcutta clergyman. The story is as old as the hills, and was told before Archdeacon Baly was born. I should be the last to pose as a critic of the evil word that your contemporary's devil has veiled beneath his thin black line, for "I often say 'dim' myself," but I protest against the vulgar insertion of a clergyman's name to spice such a context. For my reading of this kind, I go to the Sporting Times, which blushed itself pink long ago. I shall stop my subscription to the paper after this, unless it adds the word "Sporting" to its designation, and comes out in pink like its more respectable and far wittier contemporary.

AIDOS.

LORD RIPON AT THE MAYO COLLEGE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

AJMERE, Nov. 21.

AFTER receiving official visits from the Native Chiefs here in the forenoon, his Excellency the Viceroy drove direct to the Mayo College, which he reached about 1 p. m. Here a large number of ladies and gentlemen were assembled, together with the principal Native Chiefs now in Ajmere, all of whom have seats on the council of the college. His Excellency was received at the entrance by Captain Loch, the Principal, Colonel Walter, and by a guard of honour of the Mhairwarra Battalion. On the Viceroy taking his seat, Captain Loch, the Principal, proceeded to read the following statement:—

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—Before your Lordship actually distributes the tangible rewards of the boys' labour and industry during the past year, I would solicit your Excellency's permission to mention in short detail the events of this period.

Before, however, referring to the scholastic studies pursued during these terms, I cannot refrain from remarking on three points which must make this session one of satisfaction, not only to myself in particular, but all others interested in this institution, and, if I may venture to hope, specially gratifying to the Mayo College Council, with whom I know your Lordship will permit me to add the name of Lieut.-Colonel St. John, my immediate predecessor and the first Principal of this college, and whom we rejoice to see amongst us this day.

The three points which I cannot refrain from mentioning are:—Firstly, there are a greater number of boys on the college roll than on any previous date; secondly, there have been more admissions during the present term than during any former one; and thirdly, there have been more competitors in the final examination which has just concluded than on any prior occasion. I trust that these three points may be considered worthy of special comment, showing, as I venture to think they do, that this college is gradually developing and bringing to maturity that object and design which your Lordship's lamented predecessor whose name this college bears had in view when proposing its formation to the chiefs of this large Province, when they assembled before him in 1870. To refer now, my Lord, to the events more closely connected with our work of the past terms, it is with pleasure I am able to repeat what I said last year, that compared with former terms the daily attendance in college continues to show a much higher average, and the greater regularity with which boys have returned to college testifies to the appreciation evinced in these rules most noticeable; but I am compelled to add, that until the daily attendance in college is only interrupted by illness or important domestic ceremonies which are unavoidable, and until every boy, unless otherwise prevented, returns punctually at the commencement of each term, the subject is not one on which we must too heartily congratutate ourselves; and I would respectfully solicit and urge the Chiefs to express to their Sirdars and Thakurs how detrimental it is to their boys' own advantage and interests to send for them at all times and seasons, and thus interfere so materially with the course of education which is being imparted to them. The health of the boys has, I am thankful to report, been quite remarkable; and although our sick list has been quite free from any serious illness, one must not forget that sickness is liable to occur, and a most agreeable duty it is—which falls to the lot of your President when he visits this college. I am very glad to be able to be present upon this occasion, and to display to your Lordship one of the most agreeable duty it is—which falls to the lot of your President when he visits this college. I am very glad to be able to be present upon this occasion, and to display to your Lordship one of the most agreeable duties of your every-day life, to offer my own people, you here will, no doubt, be called to fill great positions full of temptations and responsibilities, and will have depending upon you many thousands—indeed, as in the case of some of the great States of Rajputana, some millions—of your fellow countrymen looking to you for their happiness, their well-being, and, in good truth, for their lives. (Applause.) You, my young friends, some of an ancient and noble race, whose origin is hid in the mists of time; and you are born to fill the great position of Princes and nobles. There is a French proverb which has come down to us from old days and which tells us noblesse oblige—that is to say, that he who claims to be of noble birth must prove that he is so by noble deeds. Let that proverb be your motto. You know that we English-men are all proud to call ourselves gentlemen, and we prize that simple name more than any high sounding titles. Now, what is the meaning of the word gentleman? It means a man of courteous, gentle, and refined manners, such as are possessed in an eminent degree by many of the Native Princes and Chiefs of India, but it means something more—something higher and better than that. It means a man whose courtesy and gentleness and refinement are not a mere matter of outside show only, but rather a matter of the heart also—a man who is honourable and truthful, and manly, and just, who lives not for his own selfish enjoyment, but to do his duty faithfully to God and to those who are dependent upon him, whose aims are high, and who scorns an ignoble life. Be then, my young friends, true Rajpoot gentlemen. On you and on your conduct depends in a very great measure the future of your country. When I look upon the bright faces before me, I have great hope of that future, and as one who has your welfare and the interest of India deeply at heart, I earnestly pray you not to mar that fair promise by neglecting the opportunities which you here enjoy of fitting yourselves for the high and responsible positions which, in all probability, most of you will be called upon hereafter to fill.

His Excellency resumed his seat amid much applause, and the distribution of the prizes was then proceeded with.

FIFTH CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice WEST.)

THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23.

MURDER BY A KHOJA WOMAN.

PUHULLI, a Khoja woman, aged 30, was tried by a special jury on a charge of culpable homicide amounting to murder. The jury consisted of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. E. M. Fogo (foreman), J. D. Sassoon, Sharif Sale Mahomed, Nusserwanjee Byramjee, A. Abercrombie, Parmanund Lodwick, Raghoonath N. Khote, John Cruddas, and T. A. Eliot.

The Hon'ble Mr. Marriot (the Advocate-General) and Mr. Fox appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. Inverarity for the defence.

The Advocate-General opened the case. He said that the prisoner, a married woman, was charged with having on the 2nd September last murdered a girl named Labee, who was of the age of about six or seven years. She was the daugter of a parched-grain seller, named Hassum Hajee, living in Doongree Cooly-street. On Friday the 2nd September last, she was well, and was sent by her father in the evening o'clock in the evening, when she went out to play. At that time she had on her person two silver anklets, valued at about Rs. 23. The girl did not return to play at parties in the evening, as usual, at about 6 wholes party might not be safely brought to shore. But alas! three lives were sacrificed; two being young girls, one twenty, the other not quite seventeen, in the full bloom of youth. Miss Gerty Gillham was a young lady of great promise and had three times proved herself to be the champion lady badminton player of Coconada. It is only a few weeks since she won the last handicap, and she has been taken away from our midst even before there was time to present her with the prize. The elder sister had also won a place in many hearts here, and will be much missed for her kind sympathetic ways. The whole community is full of sympathy with Captain and Mrs. Gillham in their terribly sudden and sad bereavement. Mr. L. Faucheur, the French Consul, was also very popular, and his loss is much deplored. How it was that the accident actually occurred, whether through mismanagement or from some other cause, yet remains to be ascertained, and no doubt an official enquiry will be made in due course. The boat was discovered sunk in twelve or fifteen fathoms of water by Mr. Bryce, the local Agent of the B. I. S. N. Company, who went out in one of his boats in search of the missing ones on the night of the disaster. No steps have yet been taken to raise the sunken boat as the weather has since been too stormy. Up to the time of writing none of the three bodies have been discovered.

Nov. 15.—Since I wrote by dak on the 12th instant, it has transpired in connection with the recent boat accident that another boat passed very near the scene of the disaster just at the time the boat capsized, and while yet some of the unfortunate sufferers were clinging to the wreck, but no measures appear to have been taken to try and save any lives. No doubt this will form part of the official enquiry which is being made, and it is to be hoped some satisfactory explanation can be offered as to why no attempts at rescue were made. The body of Mr. L. Faucheur was found near Hope Island this morning, and has just been brought across to Coconada.—Mail's Correspondent.

N.-W. PROVINCES, PUNJAB, AND OUDH.

THE N. I. R. A. MEETING.—With reference to the programme of the meeting of the Northern India Rifle Association, 1881-82, lately issued by the Secretary, Major Hill, we have been requested to state that Captain W. F. Nuthall, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General of Musketry of this Circle, has consented to act as the Local Secretary at Allahabad, and all intending first class competitors are desired to forward their names and notify their intentions to him. All letters addressed to Allahabad will be forwarded to him should he be away from the station.—Pioneer.

ENGLAND AND THE VATICAN.

ROME, Nov. 2.

AN exaggerated importance has been given to Mr. Errington's mission, if it may be called such, to the Vatican. Its importance consists in what it may lead to rather than in what it is. It is inexact also to say that he has been sent in the capacity of a provisional diplomatic agent because the Vatican had refused to treat with the British Embassy in Rome concerning some important questions. Mr. Errington has certainly come to Rome with the knowledge of Lord Granville and in a measure charged by him, but that scarcely constitutes him a diplomatic agent. As regards the Vatican, there has never been a question of treating on subjects of any kind with the British Embassy accredited to the King of Italy, and consequently no refusal, for the simple reason that such a thing would imply a distinct infraction of the rule which the Holy See laid down in 1870, and has strictly observed ever since, of holding no communication whatsoever with the diplomatists, whether Ambassadors, Ministers, or others, accredited to the Quirinal. It is not a question of either the British Ambassador or the British Embassy, for I have heard Cardinal Jacobini speak of Sir Augustus Paget in terms of the highest respect. Mr. Errington had a long interview with Cardinal Jacobini immediately after his arrival.—Times.

THE OPIUM REVENUE.

It will not be forgotten that our London correspondent, in commenting a few days ago upon the proceedings in the Egyptain Hall, London, in connection with the proposed abolition of the opium traffic, referred to an interruption from one of the audience. The form which the interruption took was an enquiry as to whether the financial consequences involved had been fully considered. The Lord Mayor replied that they had not been overlooked, but he did not proceed to state in what way the deficit in the Indian Exchequer which would be caused was to be made up. A point on which our London correspondent was lacking is now made clear. He did not tell as who the "interrupter" was. That gentleman, in a letter to the Daily News now stands revealed in the person of Mr. W. Martin Wood. Mr. Wood is entitled to speak with authority on any subject connected with Indian finance or administration. He is one of a small body of Englishmen who, while residing in India, do not shrink from taking a good deal of trouble in making themselves acquainted with the real needs of the people and of the country, and who, while not forfeiting the esteem of their fellowcountrymen, have succeeded in gaining the confidence and respect of our Indian fellow-subjects. Mr. Wood, whilst performing the duties of a journalist in Bombay, and while engaged in other duties of a quasi-literary character, mastered the intricacies of Indian finance.

Mr. Wood says, we think, with very good reason, that, though the Lord Mayor declared the question of finance was not to be shirked by Englishmen, the country generally has not signified its willingness to pay the deficit which the abolition of the traffic must cause. Indeed, he says that, at the meeting in question, subsequent speakers, as others have done at former meetings of the kind, proceeded to minimise the significance of the pledge given by the Lord Mayor, and to speak vaguely about the great resources of India being equal to what may be required. Mr. Wood proceeds to remark:—"Efforts to shirk responsibility for the cost of this moral crusade will be in vain, and can only postpone any settlement of the question, the pecuniary aspect of which the people of England have not so much as begun to perceive. We cannot be generous with 'other people's money,' and it would ill-accord with the 'righteousness that exalteth a nation' to gratify our philanthropic desires at the expense of the impoverished ryot of India. It is idle to speak of substitutes for the opium revenue. The position is just the same as if the Government of India possessed a silver mine yielding eight millions annually. Should the mine be stopped by moral or any other compulsion, the deficient millions will have to be made up. By every principle of justice and right the British Government,—which, as alleged, created the opium revenue by forcing the drug on the Chinese,—and the English people,—who how to be agitated up to the pitch of stopping traffic,—must find the means to fill up the [illegible] are We will not stay to argue with M[illegible]ing the the possibility or otherwise of Je[illegible] Wood as to a share—however small in [illegible]dia bearing at least opium traffic gain [illegible]roportion to the whole—as we have abo[illegible]hen the opponents of the columns, [illegible]eir ends. We are of opinion, India [illegible]wn on previous occasions in these [illegible]at it would not be impossible for British [illegible] bear a part in the sacrifice needful before [illegible] traffic can be abolished. Incidentally, we observe that Mr. Wood estimates the capitalised value of the revenue at fifteen millions less than the sum we mentioned on Saturday, remarking that "such high ground as that maintained by the speakers at last Friday's meeting must be equal to inspiring a national sacrifice that will be five times greater than was incurred in the compensated extinction of West Indian slavery." One great point which, to our mind, Mr. Wood overlooked, is the fact that the Chinese may so agitate against the traffic as to make it necessary for us to revise our treaties with the Celestial Empire at such a time as will suit their convenience and not ours, and in the document which shall take the place of existing treaties insist upon the insertion of a clause like that in the Kuldja Treaty, whereby the opium traffic would be forbidden. This is an aspect of the case which ought not to be overlooked; it is a contingency which ought to be provided for. The final sentences in Mr. Wood's letter are as follow:—"Probably not five of the gentlemen on the platform last Friday ever permitted themselves to reflect that England has not yet paid one shilling towards the maintenance of her Indian Empire. All the paying from this side has yet to begin." If Mr. Wood had added, "With the exception of the contribution to the Afghan War expenses which Mr. Gladstone's Government had made," we should have been happy to endorse his statements. If, however, Mr. Wood were farther to say that the Afghan War had nothing to do with the maintenance of our Indian Empire, but that it was a wanton attack upon a neighbour, without cause or justification, undertaken in the interests of England and not of India, he would find the majority of Englishmen agreeing with him.—Western Mercury.

SIR LEWIS PELLY ON THE LAND QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "TIMES."

SIR,—I have travelled during the past two months along the coast of Ireland, principally between Cork and Donegal. The Irish question has occupied of late so much space in The Times that I do not dare intrude on you with details of my own observation; but the following results of thought, briefly enumerated, may possibly interest you.

First, Ireland is in a transitional condition. Morally and politically it has comparatively little resemblance with what it was a generation ago. Even during the past 10 years there is a marked and radical change.

Second, what are commonly known as the Land League and Home Rule agitations are, in fact, the general resultant of many forces operating simultaneously and sometimes in adverse directions.

Third, among these forces one that is constant in its action and may prove, in the long run, to be permanent and increasingly powerful is the influence of American ideas on the people of Ireland, in particular on the populations of her western counties. We can no more stop the influx of these ideas than we can the swell of the Atlantic breaking a previous year along the western coast. The destitute or discontented Irishman quits his island regretfully and often with bitterness, dwells a while in America, imbibes Republican or Democratic ideas, and returns home to leaven the tribal and loyal sympathies of his neighbours. Incidentally, too, his American experience may have weakened his hereditary religious convictions; he went out a Roman Catholic, with an English belief in free trade and the blessings of British rule; he comes back asserting equality, questioning the advantages of monarchy, and preaching protection in trade and free trade in religion.

Fourth, the organizing influence of the Catholic hierarchy strives to counteract or check the critical and disintegrating effects of Democratic thought; but itself in turn fears to lose its hold upon the people by entering too emphatic a protest against some of the tendencies of the period.

Fifth, I venture, with all deference, to submit that, perhaps, the traditions of the local Government have scarcely taken into sufficient consideration the advisability and potency of frequent personal communications between the governors and the governed in regions like those of south and west Ireland. It seemed to me—and I write entirely subject to correction—that the Government at Dublin was a little too impersonal. One heard too much of the Castle and Phœnix-park and too little of individual rulers to whom the people had looked in their poverty and difficulties. And I cannot but think that if it had been the practice for successive Viceroys and their subordinates to make frequent tours—in particular through the more remote districts—they would have acquired by free personal communication and personal sympathy with the distressed and discontented such knowledge of real grievances and such confidence in their wish and power to introduce remedial measures as might have anticipated and prevented the present deplorable crisis. There is a great deal of the Oriental in the Irish character. I fully grant—and this without going into the idiosyncrasies of race—that the typical Irishman is a perplexing subject to treat and govern. But still he has fine qualities and the business and the ultimate test of the wisdom of government is the understanding the condition of the particular body politic; and when that body is suffering or is threatened with complicated organic disease that the Government should avert or prevent rather than wait to cure the malady. Had the local authorities held free and habitual personal intercourse with the rural populations to the westward it is hardly possible but that they should have come to perceive that a real grievance in respect to the land was increasingly pressing on and squeezing out the people. They would have ascertained that more was required from the land than all circumstances considered, it could permanently yield; they would have learnt that, in some instances, the endeavour to extract this excessive wealth from the soil was due to a false analogy, which led landlord, agent, and tenant to assume that the acreage rent in England was a guide for that in Ireland, and this without bearing in mind that the one island is eminently commercial, wealthy, enjoying a rapid circulation of money, and a resident landed aristocracy, while the other island is singularly uncommercial, has little to fall back on but the land, has many absentee landlords, a sluggish circulation of money, and a population comparatively sparse. In other instances the authorities might have found that the complaints were attributable to the exactions of a grasping landlord; and perhaps a careful analysis would have shown these latter instances to be speculators or investors and not the hereditary landlords. As matters are, one among the strongest impulses of the rural lopulations is indiscriminately to squeeze out the landlord in retaliation for having been themselves squeezed out.

Sixth, I fear I must add that the present crisis in Ireland is in its origin largely attributable to party government. The history of what I here allude to is patent to all, and I prefer not to dwell upon it. Are party government and untimely Democracy destined to disintegrate this Empire, and is this doom to be hastened by the political rivalries and animosities of great party leaders?

As regards Mr. Gladstone's Land Bill, I think there is an increasing tendency to accept it. But I have heard it alleged that, of 20,000,000 acres, the Bill touches scarcely one-fourth—in other words, it touches the arable, but not the pasture and waste lands. The meaning of this allegation is that, while an attempt is made to reconcile the landlord and agricultural tenant, the younger sons of the farming classes and the labourers remain unprovided for and discontented. Hopes are expressed that Government may hereafter deem fit to arrange that a portion of the vast areas now in pasture shall again become arable and be distributed in small farms. To do this would be, of course, to exceed the limit of the functions of Government; but it is contended that in Ireland we are already at the foundations of civilized society, and that the present abnormal condition of the State imperatively demands measures unsanctioned by political economy. I understad that something in this direction is being done by a land association recently constituted. Be all this as it may, when Ireland is pacified it will have to be organized, and the sooner and the more cordially the parties of order and progress, both in Church and State, coalesce for organizing purposes the better it will be for the United Kingdom as whole, and the less danger will accrue to society at large from the honeycombing influences of mutually retaliating secret associations.—Yours truly,

Athenæum Club, Oct. 31. LEWIS PELLY.
